Once Newmarket School Boy, Is Wing Commander

Wing Commander George Elms' Mosquito Squadron Inspected By King and Queen

When their majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth, toured British, Canadian and U.S. air bases in Britain recently, they inspected a Mosquito squadron led by Wing Commander George Elms, a former Alexander Muir school student.

Wing Commander Elms is the son of W. H. Elms, tool foreman at the Office Specialty Mfg Co., whose home is in Whitby.

Mr. and Mrs. Elms at one time had their home in Newmarket, living on Hamilton St., and it was at that time that the now wing commander attended Alexander Muir school. Born Jan. 25, 1914, he started his school career in Newmarket with Miss Florence Hayes, who is now married and living in the U.S.A.

In grade 2 in 1921 he had Miss Margaret Morning, now a nurse, resident in Newmarket but practising her profession in Toronto, as his teacher.

George Elms completed his schooling in Whitby and Toronto, and then attended and graduated from the University of Toronto. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. before the war broke out.

At the same time the king and queen inspected a Spitfire squadron commanded by Squadron Leader Lloyd V. Chadburn, who has now been promoted to be a wing commander.

Newmarket Pilot Officer Takes Tumble Into Atlantic, Ducking And Quick Rescue Follow

When his plane overturned while making a forced landing in Northumberland Strait yesterday, Pilot Officer G. W. Hewson, Newmarket, escaped from the cockpit with nothing worse than a ducking. The plane was not badly damaged.

Sighted by aircraft detection corps watchers, Pilot Officer Hewson was in the water only a short time before he was picked up by the Caribou-Wood islands' ferry about one-half mile off the Nova Scotia coast. He had been on a routine navigation solo flight.

Gert W. Larsen, 19, Gives His Life In War Against Nazis

Newmarket Boy, Serving with Norwegian Air Force, Left Newmarket Last Summer For Iceland

A smiling youngster about Newmarket until a year or two ago, Gert Wilfred Larsen, a member of the Royal Norwegian Air Force, died in hospital in Scotland on June 9.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larsen, Millard Ave., received word on Friday from "Little Norway" training centre, Toronto. They had received letters from him on Wednesday and Thursday, one dated May 28, telling them that he was ill.

He was born in Denmark 20 years ago this July 1, and came to Canada with his parents and an older brother, Herluf, now in Abbotsford, B.C., when he was three years old, and to Newmarket two years later. Two other brothers have been born in Newmarket, Orla and Donald.

Gert Larsen attended the Congregational-Christian church Sunday-school, the King George school, the Stuart Scott school and Newmarket high school. He belonged to the Boy Scouts. He used to sell the "Newmarket Era" on a route which he built for himself and which his brother Orla now carries on for The Era and Express.

He enlisted in the Royal Norwegian Air Force on July 1, 1941, his birthday. He first put on an air force blue uniform, but was soon wearing a naval uniform when he was assigned to gorund force duties with seaplanes.

Gert Larsen left Newmarket on Aug. 8, last year, and served in Iceland until January, when he was transferred to Scotland and trained as a parachute packer.

The letter from the Little Norway padre stated that Gert Larsen died on June 9 in Craig Lockhart, and was buried there June 12. "His death was caused by sickness, as far as we can understand from the short message we have got here. I know that the message will be a hard blow for you both. You have lost a very fine boy, whom you certainly expected much from."

Gert Larsen wrote to his parents that he was suffering "from water on the chest and on the stomach. My temperature is pretty high but it is coming down a little at a time. It's a Norwegian hospital I'm in and it's pretty swell. The doctor told me all I had to do was take it easy and I soon will be well."

He went on to say that he had saved up "quite a bit of money" and that he hoped to get leave to go home to pick up the 30 lbs. he had lost while ill. "I'll soon get that back," he wrote. "We've certainly been going great guns in Tunisia. Churchill made a good speech in congress at Washington. We have a radio here."

His other letter asked for canned peanuts, maple syrup, tinned fruits, figs and sultana raisins, chocolate bars and candy to build him up to his normal weight.

Another letter from Gert Larsen was received, the day before the news came of his death, by a friend of long standing, Dr. C. E. VanderVoort. He wrote: "I've been in the hospital for a month and a half. I am suffering from water on the chest. I expect to get out in June some time. I'm going to try to get back to Canada as soon as I get leave.

"It sure woud be swell to walk down the main street again. When I get back and have had a little practice I'll give you a good game of golf.

"Would you thank the Lions club personally from me for the cigarettes I received. They really come in handy."

Death Is Best Preacher, Decoration Speaker Says

When Death Talks All Sit Up And Listen, Says Speaker

Newmarket Citizens' Band, Newmarket Veterans, Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs marched to Newmarket cemetery on Sunday for Decoration Day.

A brief service was held at the veterans' plot on the west side of the chapel before the principal service was held on the east side of the chapel.

The service was opened by the playing of "God Save the King." Rev. J. A. Koffend read scripture and offered prayer. W. L. Bosworth, chairman of the Newmarket cemetery board, expressed appreciation to the Veterans, Scouts and Cubs, and to the Newmarket Citizens' band, "especially to older members of the band who had retired but have returned to fill in for boys now on active service, and also to the younger members who have recently joined the band."

Mr. Bosworth said there were 77 burials in the past year, making a total of 4,803 interments in the cemetery. He also asked anyone wanting a plot to "choose it in the summer when you can see it, not in the winter when everything is covered with snow."

Following another band selection, Reeve Fred A. Lundy, representing the mayor, was introduced by Mr. Bosworth. "I am sure, if it were possible for the mayor to be with us, he would have congratulated the board on their efforts in arranging the Decoration Day service, while laboring under such difficulties," said Mr. Lundy.

Mr. Lundy commended the endowment fund which the Newmarket board of directors founded and which had since been copied by other cemeteries.

Mr. Bosworth thanked Wallace Adams, the caretaker, his staff, and those who assisted in directing traffic, for their help.

"To some this cemetery may seem a lonely place, but it is not

It moved away. After a couple of trials they paddled to the float and made a cast, catching the float with a hook.

Result was a five-pound pike.

This 'Pick-up' Pitcher Had Been To The Well Before

"Lefty" Newbold's Team Holds Specialty Down

Right-hander Fred Owens of the Military Camp pitched and helped to bat his team to a 13-5 decision over the last-place Office Specialty hardballers, on Thursday night.

Owens was the whole show over at the Stuart Scott school diamond as he struck out 16 of the Specialty batters. "Red" Palmateer was his most generous victim, as he whiffed on four successive times at bat. In the second, third and fifth innings he struck out the side. Only Charlie VanZant and Ben Wilson, the old-timers of the team, seemed to have any luck in teeing off on his delivery. VanZant got three hits and Wilson two.

The Camp, meanwhile, were batting the deliveries of three Specialty pitchers in fine fashion. Bill Hopper started on the mound, but didn't last more than one inning when the Camp got to him for three hits and five walks for five runs.

Gene Broughton then took over the flinging and in the fourth he was relieved by "PeeWee" Hilton. The Camp got four more runs in the third, two in the fourth and two in the seventh.

The Camp team, which was handled by ("Lefty") Earl Newbold, was just a pick-up bunch that he had gathered together after 5.30 that evening, so it was said. The regular Camp team were playing a softball game with Brampton training centre. Two or three of the boys looked like improvements on the regulars.

This right-hander, Owens, the star of the night, is a senior from Duprequette, P.Q. A few years ago he pitched for Sunderland in intermediate B ball. He spent two years pitching senior ball for a dairy in Toronto. Last year he was beaten out for the Nickel Belt League title by a team from Hollinger Mines. He is a sergeant at Camp.

GOOD OF ALL, IS AIM OF NEW ORGANIZATION

Main St. business men met in the council chamber on Tuesday evening to complete an organization.

The meeting began with the idea that it would be a retailers' organization and ended with a tentative decision that it would be open to all business and professional men.

Alex. Eves, who had been elected as president at a meeting last week addressed by a representative of the wartime prices and trade board, suggested that each office should be thrown open for nominations. Mr. Eves was made chairman.

Officers were elected as follows: R. C. Morrison, president; H. J. Luck, 1st vice-pres.; J. L. Spillette, 2nd vice-pres.; H. M. Hooker, secretary; Harold Patterson, treasurer.

It was decided that meetings would be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, and that the officers elected should bring a constitution to the next meeting.

"We are all here not merely to bring business to our own stores, but to bring business to Main St.," said Mr. Morrison.

Children roam the streets in search for food. They die sometimes in the streets for lack of food.

Bell Employees Undergo Voluntary Chest X-Ray

Ontario Department Of Health Co-operates In Chest Clinic

In co-operation with the Ontario department of health, some 27 telephone employees in Newmarket underwent x-ray examinations of the chest on Tuesday and Wednesday. Primarily, the x-ray examinations are for the detection of tuberculosis, but they also disclose other abnormal conditions of the chest, according to C. E. Blosdale, Bell Telephone manager at Newmarket.

Mr. Blosdale said that Bell Telephone employees are being x-rayed on a voluntary basis, and that workers in all departments are being given the privilege. The x-ray examinations here are part of a general plan which is being extended to the majority of the company's 7,000 employees in Ontario. The cost of the examinations is being borne jointly by the company and the Ontario department of health.

In Newmarket the x-rays were taken in the Bell Telephone building and, in addition to the company's employees, provincial government workers were x-rayed there.

The tuberculosis prevention branch of the provincial health department has examined 100,000 Ontario men and women to date, and experience has revealed that 68 percent of all tuberculosis is found in persons in the employed age group, said Mr. Blosdale. By ascertaining the cases of tuberculosis in this group, examinations of families reveal other cases, and thus is obtained the fastest method of detecting active tuberculosis in this province.

Tuberculosis, according to statistics, kills more people than all other contagious diseases, yet it is known that the death rate would drop 75 percent if all cases could be found before they reached moderately or far advanced stages, said Mr. Blosdale. In an effort to achieve this position, Ontario has led in the development of mass examination. One of the most remarkable aspects of the organization which the province developed to accomplish this is the travelling unit, which makes it possible to conduct examinations during business hours without interrupting work appreciably.

WORK AND PLAY

North York Women's Institutes discussed draws as a means of making money at the district annual meeting in Newmarket last week. In view of the fact that "the department," that is, the Women's Institute branch of the department of agriculture, "frowns on" draws, it was debated whether or not to consider money raised in that way in awarding the branch activities prize.

There are two questions involved, first, whether there is anything wrong about selling or buying tickets for a prize or prizes; and, second, if there is, whether the good use the money is put to doesn't justify the means by which it is raised.

A thing isn't necessarily wrong because the criminal code makes it an offence, for a law can become obsolete and forgotten and yet remain on the statute books. Or it may just be broadly stated so that it covers not only acts that society objects to but also acts which society doesn't object to. For instance, telling your friends' fortunes in your own home makes you liable to a year's imprisonment.

So there is the same need for deciding what society is really aiming at in reading the criminal code section which says that: "Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to two years' imprisonment and to a fine not exceeding $2,000 who (a) makes, prints, advertises or publishes, or causes or procures to be made, printed, advertised or published any proposal, scheme or plan for advancing, lending, giving, selling or in any way disposing of any property, by lots, cards, tickets, or any mode of chance whatsoever; or" and the section goes on to cover those who sell or dispose of any such tickets or manage any such scheme; and then specifically covers a person who "disposes of any goods, wares or merchandise by any game or mode of chance or mixed chance and skill in which the contestant or competitor pays money or other valuable consideration."

The best way to raise money for any cause, of course, is to put the cause on its merits and ask the public for the money, either by canvass or tag day. That is the way the Red Cross raises huge sums for its humanitarian purposes.

While buying or selling tickets to help a good cause does not seem wrong in itself, it may become socially undesirable, and therefore wrong (as the criminal code says), when there is an excess of it and it leads to and encourages gambling for money or property or leads to a gambling attitude toward life. We sometimes blame "the socialists" for encouraging people to think that they do not need to work for a living, but perhaps we should attribute the popularity of this idea of getting something for nothing (whether in the form of a public dole or in the form of sharp practices or old-fashioned burglary—or does the burglar work for his living?) to our widespread raising of money by lottery.

We leave the question with you, but on one point we have no doubt and that is where we resort to a money-wheel and similar games paying off in cash. There we are appealing to one of the basest of human emotions, avarice, and we are teaching children false values, false ideas of how to make our economic system work. For some people the cash pay-off is only a little bit of excitement, but for so many others it is an attempt to make easy money. One cannot help but wonder how many dishonest youths got their first taste of something for nothing from a slot-machine or a public gaming table.

Going back to the raising of money by the sale of tickets, we note gratefully that the penalty for buying such a ticket is only $20, and that certain church and charitable raffles are specifically excepted from the law. The section quoted above does not apply to "raffles for prizes of small value at any bazaar held for any charitable or religious object, if permission to hold the same has been obtained from the city or other municipal council, or from the mayor, reeve or other chief officer of the city, town or other municipality, wherein such bazaar is held, and the articles raffled for thereat have first been offered for sale and none of them are of a value exceeding $50."

The intention of the criminal code section seems to be that there shall be moderation in the operation of lotteries. The North York Women's Institutes district annual meeting apparently adopted an even higher standard, however, for the prize for the best branch report went to a branch that had raised a comparatively small sum of money but had done it without raffles.

BRITAIN ON GOD'S SIDE

Good old Britain! She has ever offered asylum to those who were persecuted in other countries. She did it for decency's sake, but she has profited by it. Wasn't it persecuted Flemish weavers who laid the foundation of Britain's textile greatness? Now Britain admits refugees from Europe at the rate of nearly a thousand a month, says Toronto Saturday Night, in spite of her food shortage, but Canada, which is not short of food, "bars its doors because the refugees are chiefly Jews. Canada is quite prepared to allow Jews to starve in Axis-controlled Europe, rather than let them enter Canada."

What is the use of our fighting a war against the theory of a super-race if we are not prepared to share what we have with the first victims of the super-race? How can we condemn the Germans for mistreating and abusing Jews if we are going to cold-shoulder them ourselves?

Jews will be "undesirables" as long as they are mistreated and ostracized, as long as they feel insecure and unwanted. When we as Christian behave towards others as we profess we will find seeming faults in others melting away. As Capt. A. W. Downer, padre at Newmarket camp, said recently in a prayer: We don't ask God to be on our side in this war; we must be on His side.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

After this war old soldiers will again be "old sweats," but what will the C.W.A.C.'s be—"old sweets"?

York county hospital directors are considering the possibility of expansion. They are not concerned about the babies being in tears sometimes, but they don't like to think of them in tiers.

A wartime prices and trade board representative advises merchants to get out of the credit business. If the banks started selling food and clothes they would soon find themselves losing money, but the banks don't make that mistake. They stick to their last. Merchants likewise get their fingers burnt when they go into the credit business. The most successful stores leave the lending of money to the banks.

Gathering the Sport Facts

Something unusual has happened all over the United States and Canada, both last year and this, as far as baseball patrons are concerned. Any other year a ball that was fouled into the stands was either pocketed or turned over to the usher in return for a pass to another day's game. However, this last happened only after a great struggle and a great deal of bickering and arguing.

The past two years fans have handed them back to the ushers, to the accompaniment of a great deal of applause. If they don't return them to the ushers, they are booed, convincingly. This marked change has taken place because baseballs that are fouled into the stands are being turned over to the army, navy, and air force camps for their use in recreational activities.

Baseball fans are readily giving up their precious souvenirs, because they go to a good cause. Last year around 50,000 baseballs were turned over to the active service camps by baseball clubs alone. The New York Yankees turned over to the army camps 1,806. Other clubs were close to this figure. The value of these baseballs would run into the sizable sum of over $100,000.

Here, in our own town, the local hardball league is having its troubles over the ball situation. At the Stuart Scott school diamond many of the young boys who gather up the balls just neglect to throw them back into the game. At the opening game four new baseballs were lost or stolen. Nearly every night since the same thing has happened.

At last Thursday night's game one young fellow was found with a brand new sphere in his pocket. This ball had been found missing before the first inning had ended. The young boy had figured when a ball was fouled over the screen into the Lions club park he was entitled to stick it into his pocket and take it home. The same thing happened at one game last year.

Baseballs are hard to obtain. Most of the stores are out of stock and cannot get any more. The government has asked all ball leagues to use as few as they possibly can. It is to be hoped that the local hardball league receives all the co-operation possible from patrons.

Did you know that many explanations have been offered for the origin of the term "bull-pen." Meaning the place where catchers and pitchers go to warm up while the game is in progress. In the early days of big league baseball there was no regularly assigned place for warm-ups. The players usually headed out toward the old Bull Durham tobacco sign that used to adorn the fences in most of the ball parks. That's how the term "bull-pen" came into being.

Persons travelling away from home and residing in a hotel, boarding house, or summer camp for one week or more are required by law to surrender their ration books to the proprietor or management of the establishment so that the following Coupons may be detached:

2 valid meat Coupons and
1 valid butter Coupon for each week of residence;
1 valid sugar Coupon and
1 valid tea/coffee Coupon for each two weeks of residence.

Address on Ration Books

For your own protection, keep the address on your ration book up to date. In the event of loss, this will enable its prompt return. You will also avoid the inconvenience of being without a ration book or the necessary delay when making a Statutory Declaration for a new book.

Dairy Butter Producers

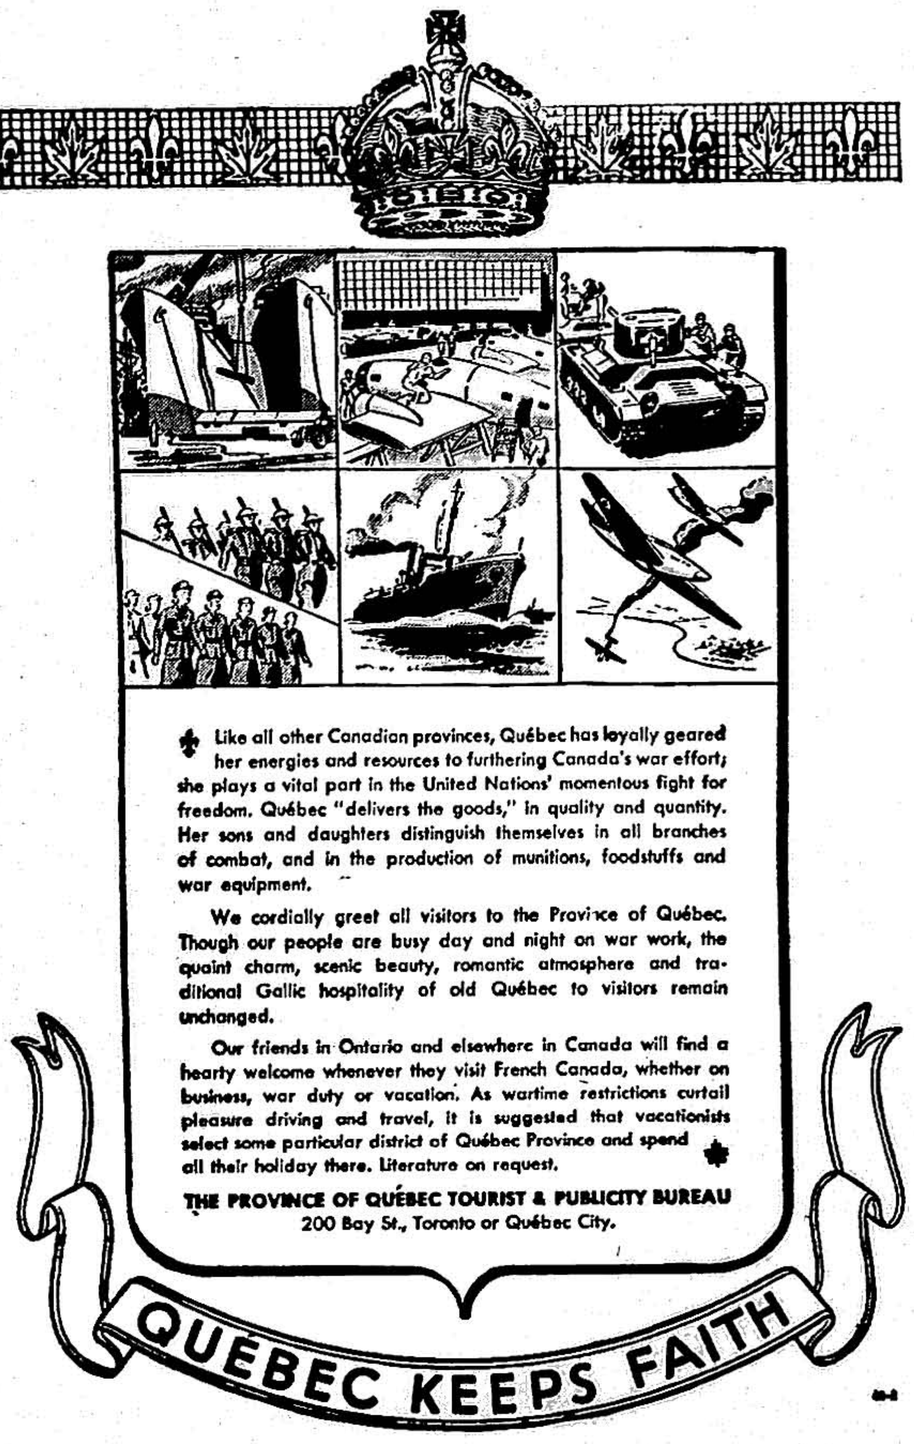

Dairy butter producers are required to register and make a monthly declaration of their sales and consumption to their Local Ration Board.

Coupons must be collected and turned in for all sales. If the producer's household consumes butter at the ration rate or in excess of it, all butter Coupons valid for the month must be surrendered from the ration books of the household. If the consumption is lower than the ration rate, only the appropriate number of valid butter Coupons need be surrendered. A combined declaration and return Coupon envelope (RB-61) can be secured from any Local Ration Board.

Ration News — Week of June 21st, 1943. 12

Like all other Canadian provinces, Québec has loyally geared her energies and resources to furthering Canada's war effort; she plays a vital part in the United Nations' momentous fight for freedom. Québec "delivers the goods," in quality and quantity. Her sons and daughters distinguish themselves in all branches of combat, and in the production of munitions, foodstuffs and war equipment.

We cordially greet all visitors to the Province of Québec. Though our people are busy day and night on war work, the quaint charm, scenic beauty, romantic atmosphere and traditional Gallic hospitality of old Québec to visitors remain unchanged.

Our friends in Ontario and elsewhere in Canada will find a hearty welcome whenever they visit French Canada, whether on business, war duty or vacation. As wartime restrictions curtail pleasure driving and travel, it is suggested that vacationists select some particular district of Québec Province and spend all their holiday there. IN MEMORIAM

Chantler—In loving memory of our darling, Charles (Buddy) Chantler, who went to be with Jesus July 22, 1937.

Riddell—In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Doris Eileen Riddell, who passed away July 1, 1941.

Time speeds on, two years have passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast,
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile,
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved,
From memory pass away.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by mother, father, sisters and brother.

CHRISTADELPHIANS

The Bible distinctly teaches the coming of the Messiah Christ to rescue the Jews from their enemies and to re-settle them in their own land as a great nation. Whilst now they are down-trodden and oppressed, yet in their restoration it will be the reverse. They will be supremely honored in proportion as they are now despised. There is certain doom for their enemies. Zech. 12: 10; Deut. 30: 4; Jer. 32: 42; Micah. 7: 16, 17; Jer. 33: 14, 16.

Newmarket merchants will be asked to tender for the coal requirements of Newmarket public schools, it was decided at a meeting of the public school board at the King George school on Monday evening.

The chairman, Rev. J. A. Koffend, presided. All other members were present. The meeting was held at the school following an inspection by the board of the three schools.

The board authorized the property committee to proceed with repairs and improvements discussed during the tour of inspection. Redecorating the interior of the King George school was on the list. Desks at the King George school will be refinished if available funds permit.

It was decided to store coal outdoors again this year.

Principal J. B. Bastedo stated that he was including in Grade XI next year and also in Grade XII the following year an optional typing course for students who do not intend to go on to university.

This would make the courses more useful and practical for students who do not find themselves benefitting from some of the options now being offered, Mr. Bastedo said.

R.C.A.F. PLANES SALUTE GROOM

In a setting of iris, peonies and pyrethrum, in Trinity United church on Saturday afternoon, Jean Frances Smith, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Newmarket, became the bride of Warrant Officer George Edward Johns, R.C.A.F., Brantford, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Johns, Newmarket, formerly of Clinton.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Gordon Harris, Conn, Ont., cousin of the groom, assisted by Rev. Henry Cotton. Mr. Gerald Rutledge was organist and Miss Gwen Lambert was soloist.

During the ceremony a formation of Anson bombers, flown by co-pilots of the groom, came over the church and gave a salute.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length chalk white printed organza gown over satin, with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the hand, fashioned on torso lines with full bouffant skirt. She wore a finger-tip veil of silk illusion and carried a cascade bouquet of white sweet peas. The bridal attendants were sisters of the bride, the Misses Joyce and Helen Smith. They wore short light blue dresses of printed organza with full skirts, black velvet calots trimmed with matching organza and carried colonial bouquets of pink roses and sweet peas. Gnr. Kenneth Johns, Petawawa, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Duncan McPhedran, Rockwood, and Harry Boag, Weston.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother wore a gown of hyacinth blue faconne crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses and freesia. The groom's mother assisted, and wore a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and freesia.

The couple left for Muskoka on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a Wedgwood blue dressmaker suit with Chateau wine and white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

OUTDOOR WEDDING IS PRETTY EVENT

The lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lynn, Sunnidale, was the setting of a pretty wedding on Friday evening, June 11, when Ann Lorrean Lynn was united in marriage to Eric C. Gonneau, R.C.E., son of Mrs. Joseph Gonneau, Stayner, and the late Mr. Gonneau.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded satin and her mother's wedding veil. She carried pink carnations and sweet peas. Miss Marie Sheave, Aurora, the bride's only attendant, was gowned in powder blue organdie and lace with matching shoulder-length veil. She carried sweet peas and snapdragons. Mr. Alan Gonneau of Barrie was his brother's best man.

After a reception at the bride's home the couple left on a short honeymoon. For travelling the bride chose a two-piece Alaska blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweet peas.

The groom returns shortly to join his unit in Prince George, B.C. Mrs. Gonneau will continue to reside in Aurora for the present.

GARDEN TEA

By GOLDEN GLOW

I did not see any account of the delightful garden tea held at the home of Mrs. Rudy Renzius, Prospect Ave., a week ago Tuesday, so I decided I'd like to write a few lines to express my appreciation, and also that of those with whom I enjoyed it. It was sponsored by the Layette club, who have done so much in the "Bundles for Britain" campaign, and have several times received "honorable mention" and special messages of thanks from Mrs. Aitken, Toronto, on their splendid work.

You will recall that Mr. and Mrs. Renzius purchased the home of the late Edgar Bogart with its beautiful gardens surrounding it, at the south end of Prospect Ave., near the high school. There are most wonderful old trees there, evidently originals, besides the numerous evergreens and shrubs planted by both Edgar Bogart and his father before him.

I think nobody but Mr. and Mrs. Renzius could have done to the house and garden what they have done while still retaining its original quaint delightful design. Really the town owes them a debt of gratitude, for Mr. Edgar Bogart's home and his father's and his mother's before him was a much loved land-mark, especially to all the hundreds of students who passed it twice a day during their term at high school.

It once more is a lovely, in-a-class-by-itself, delightful spot. The house still makes you think of a Swiss chalet or something "old world." There was always a mystery about the quiet shaded rooms—one on either side of the small front verandah. And Mrs. Renzius has even managed to still retain that air of mystery, adding still more to its attraction!

The garden is a picture—and made a glowing background for the gay crowd who, in spite of the heat and a threatened thunder-storm, attended in such numbers. Mrs. C. H. R. Clark and Mrs. W. L. Bosworth poured tea while Mrs. Grant Dillane presided at the small table where the guests registered. Mrs. Renzius, in native costume, received the guests at the foot of the flagged steps leading down to the garden at the south side of the house, and made us all feel as if each one, alone, were the most honored guest there.

The tea table, set in the shade of lofty elms, was a picture, and we admired several pieces of Mr. Renzius' lovely pewter work in use by the waiters. The bevy of young women who served us so prettily were all in lovely summery gowns and they made such a charming picture that it was a pleasure just to watch them.

But the tea was specially delicious and fragrant, while the variety of sandwiches was amazing—whoever thinks up so many wonderful designs and picturesque shapes with their varied sandwich fillings? The small cakes were likewise intriguing and equally delicious—and I'm sure everyone enjoyed the refreshments.

We wandered round the gardens with the grass like velvet under our feet, peeped into the summer-house that Edgar Bogart built for his mother so she could serve afternoon tea to her many friends al-fresco, overlooking the town and Fairy Lake. And we decided we, too, should get ourselves a tiny goat like the one there, cropping the grass and paying little attention to the sudden avalanche of visitors.

It was, as I said, a humid hot afternoon, with a storm threatening, occasionally, off and on all day—but luckily for all concerned the delightful garden tea was nicely over when the storm broke. And what a storm it was for a few minutes. I was very glad to hear all the helpers to the delightful tea reached the haven of Mrs. Renzius' hospitable house without getting drenched. The storm did not last long but it was very nice of "Jupiter Pluvius" to let us have the afternoon before "turning on the water!"

School Pupils Take Temperance Studies

The regular meeting of the Newmarket W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Hooker, with the president, Mrs. A. M. Winn, in the chair.

Mrs. James Phimister took charge of the devotional exercises, reading from the 2nd chapter of James: "What doth it profit though a man say he hath faith and have not works? Faith without works is dead." The Lord's prayer was recited in unison. Then Mrs. L. Phimister offered prayer.

Mrs. Roy Meads said that "through the flower mission we are 'laying up treasures in heaven.' " Mrs. J. A. Maitland read a beautiful poem on the "Water Lily," which is the emblem of the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Paul Arlitt sang a lovely solo, "God's Tomorrow."

Miss Bertha Neilly gave a report of the temperance work in day schools.

Miss Neilly said: "We are grateful to the following teachers taking up temperance work in the public schools: Harold A. Jackson, Miss N. Holladay, Miss E. Denne, Fred Hall."

In Mr. Jackson's room 24 pupils tried a temperance test, 22 passed with honors and two passed. Helen Epworth received 100 percent.

In Miss Holladay's room 32 pupils tried, 31 passed with honors and one passed. Joyce Hargreaves received 100 percent.

In Miss Denne's room 31 pupils tried and 31 passed with honors. Sheila Inglis and Joan Bovair each received 100 percent.

In Mr. Hall's room 37 pupils tried, and all did well. Kenneth Budd received 87 percent.

War savings stamps are being given to the winners by the W.C.T.U. Miss Neilly has given one of the prizes.

MAKE MOST OF LIFE, IS EX-PASTOR'S ADVICE

"This life is to be lived not endured, enjoyed not tolerated, and Jesus came to show us the way to life which is full and enjoyable and abundant," declared Rev. Arthur Greer in a "Conference Sunday" address at the Congregational-Christian church on Sunday morning.

Former pastor of the church, Mr. Greer is in charge of a United church mission field at Canora, Sask., and is spending his vacation in Ontario.

From his own experience Mr. Greer related that "a western farmer said one day that he and everyone else believed in the after-life, and the bliss of those who believed and were prepared. But he went on to state that he started coming to church after an absence of 20 years because the current preacher's sermons dealt with salvation of this life as well as salvation in the life to come. His wife was an ardent Roman Catholic and she also goes to church every Sunday for the same reason."

"I searched the Scriptures," Mr. Greer related. "I was almost astonished to find just how much stress our Lord Jesus Christ placed on this present life. My eyes were opened when I saw, as if for the first time, how he healed the sick, to make life more bearable, gave sight to the blind, to make life more beautiful, gave hearing to the deaf, to make life more intelligible, gave wholemindedness to the insane, to make life more understandable, raised the dead, to make life more joyful and complete for the loved ones, and all the time preached and beckoned towards a life full and meaningful and worth-while."

"Why not let Jesus save all that is lost, the body if He wills it, the mind, the spirit or disposition, and the soul?" asked Mr. Greer. He said that he did not believe in "faith healing," but that all healing comes from God, and that healing would come if God willed it. He suggested that some people brought ill health on themselves for lack of a proper attitude toward life. "Still yourself before Him and drink in his quiet strength."

"Heaven, as I see it, is not a sudden lifting from a life of defeat," said Mr. Greer. "It is a marching home with the laurels of victory. It is the consummation of a life that has fought and won, of a life that has made a good job of earth, and now goes on triumphant to the life beyond."

Rev. Douglas C. Percy was the guest speaker at the evening service. Mr. and Mrs. Percy spent four years as missionaries in Nigeria and have been home on furlough for the past year.

Mr. Percy chose as his theme the words "by chance" from the parable of the Good Samaritan.

Mr. Percy said that a great many Christians lived "by chance" and not by divine impulse from God. Many Christians, he said, worked well and fitted in well in their duties in the church organizations, but did not let God have control of their lives. The priest in the parable, he said, had a glorious opportunity. He knew the work in the temple and all the rituals, but was a failure when it came to rendering service for God.

The Good Samaritan, on the other hand, lived by divine impulse, and made use of the opportunities that came his way. "Everything is changed when Christ has control of your life," Mr. Percy said.

Mrs. Percy was at the piano for the service, and for the offertory played a beautiful arrangement of her own of hymns pertaining to the crucifixion and leading up to the ascension of Christ, ending with the "Hallelujah Chorus."

W. I. LADIES HEAR REPORT ON CONVENTION

The May meeting of the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Ross Howlett, with 18 in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Max Smith, was in the chair. The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and Creed, followed by the Lord's Prayer. Roll-call was answered by each one telling some historical event or ... birthplace and was interesting.

It was decided to have a dressmaking course in one of the spring months.

Miss Lillian Toole attended an afternoon session of the Federation convention, held at the Royal York hotel, Toronto. It is the first time a convention of this sort has been held in Ontario. Miss Toole gave some interesting thoughts on the convention at the meeting.

Mrs. Fred Brillinger, historical research convener, gave an interesting talk on the "History of Newmarket."

Mrs. Arthur Boyd, liasion convener, read a letter concerning sugar for canning.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Maple Leaf.

TWENTY-THREE THIS WEEK

The camp softball team met Bowser's in Toronto on Monday night and whacked out a score of 8-3 for No. 23.

"A" company met the comely C.W.A.C. team on our own diamond. The girls under the management of Lieut. Bongard chalked up a score of 17-8.

On Tuesday night, Air Force was to visit the camp but it rained pitchforks and saw-log handles in Toronto, so the Air Force was grounded. We still have the pleasure in store of recording a resounding win against the gentlemen of the skies.

On Tuesday evening the John Inglis Shotgun Revue blew into camp with another edition.

On Wednesday evening the C.W.A.C. softball team met a team from "B" company. The girls were handicapped at the start by a pitcher who was intent on playing for "B" company. The score went up to such a figure on both sides that the scorekeeper lost count. C.W.A.C.'s have now issued a challenge to the officers, a game that will go down in history.

On Thursday night No. 23 crack softball team beat Office Specialty to a score of 14-5. Since the league opened the camp team has won two out of the three games played.

Brampton camp played on our own camp diamond on Thursday night in an invitation game. The score at the end of the game stood at 8-2 for Newmarket.

On Friday night the softball team travelled to Davisville park, Toronto, to clash with Ordnance. At the end of the ninth the score was tied with 12 runs each. Ordnance broke the tie by one run in overtime.

On the same evening the football team met the Massey-Harris team at Weston. Miller just couldn't seem to get going but Sgt.-Major Bowman said that O'Hara and Urquhart played the best game he's ever seen them play.

O'Hara scored three of our four goals. In all fairness we must say that Massey-Harris had four goals also, and the game ended in a tie.

We must congratulate Cpl. Barbara Fyfe (Fyfe-by-Fyfe), whose boy friend in Borden has received a promotion.

Staff Goodings of the B.O.R. has been promoted to the rank of 2nd lieutenant. Sgt. Ibey of the B.O.R. is now a staff-quartermaster-sergeant and Cpl. Squirrell of Records is a sergeant. So modest and unassuming is Sgt. Squirrell that it had to be trumpeted about the orderly room before anyone knew of his promotion.

L.-Sgt. Hank Buss is now a sergeant and Cpl. Hines is a lance-sergeant. L.-Cpls. Adams, Brisson, Browne, Reid, Martin and Pte. Owens are now full corporals. A considerable number of privates have been released for work with the centre as lance-corporals.

Capt. S. F. Williams is the new quartermaster. He is creating quite a stir in stores recently, judging from the dust that billows forth at regular intervals. Our former quartermaster, Capt. Luck, has been retired. A sincere tribute is extended to his faithful work.

CHURCH WEDDING IS PRETTY EVENT

A pretty wedding took place recently in Yorkminster Baptist church, Toronto, when Selena (Teen) Bessie Charlotte, daughter of Capt. the Rev. W. F. Mesley, and Mrs. Mesley, King, became the bride of Gordon (Don) Connor Chalk, son of Wing Commander and Mrs. S. G. Chalk, King. Rev. W. A. Cameron officiated and D'Alton McLaughlin played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, the bride's brother, Dick Mesley, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding veil with her gown of white satin, and carried pink roses. Her sister, June, was her bridesmaid, in a frock of pink net, with flowers and net in her hair, and carried a bouquet of pink and blue flowers. Jack Lenhart was the best man, and the ushers were the bride's brother, LAC Bill Mesley, R.C.A.F., and AC2 Douglas Nesbitt, R.C.A.F.

A reception followed. Mrs. Mesley welcomed the guests in a gown of London fog lace, with white accessories. The groom's mother had chosen a gown with a black skirt and flowered top and a black hat. Mrs. T. Hankin, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. F. Chalk, grandmother of the groom, received with the bridal party.

The couple left for Niagara Falls and will take a boat trip on the lakes before returning home to the groom's farm near King. The bride's travelling costume was a two-piece navy blue dress with white accessories.

The bride formerly attended Aurora high school and is the daughter of the former national registration registrar for North York.

Back In Action, Chadburn Receives Promotion

Squadron Leader Lloyd V. Chadburn, D.F.C., son of Mrs. Frank Allen, Aurora, has been promoted to wing commander, it has been announced by R.C.A.F. headquarters.

Recent dispatches from overseas indicate that his new squadron has been doing terrific damage to German shipping, including E-boats and merchantmen off the Dutch coast.

In one action the Aurora ace had a narrow escape, his plane being hit several times. After a trip home that was a "bit rough" he needed a new machine. Wing Commander Chadburn formerly commanded the City of Oshawa squadron, but went to a new command of Spitfires on his return overseas a few months ago. When home he was worried lest he be given a staff post which would necessitate him giving up his strafing activities, but the blond airman, with a full-scale air offensive against the Axis in full swing, is now seeing plenty of action, much to his delight.

Aurora South African Hero Dies At Wyevale

The death occurred suddenly at Wyevale on Friday of one of Simcoe and York counties' best known figures, the late Rockcliffe Linton. He was the son of the late William Linton and was born in Aurora in 1867.

Mr. Linton farmed in this district for some years and then in the 90's, took up farming at Hargrave, Manitoba. He enlisted with the Strathcona Horse at the outbreak of the South African war and saw service in Africa, attending the coronation of King Edward VII en route home.

One of his most prized possessions was a gold watch presented to him by the citizens of Aurora on his return home.

After being in the implement business on Wellington St. for some years, he again farmed, at Vandorf and Queensville, later moving to Wyevale in 1918.

He was a member of the United church. Surviving are his widow, the former Ada E. Sisman of Aurora, three sons, William, Barrie, Councillor Ross Linton, Aurora, and John, Toronto, and four daughters, Mrs. A. L. Scott (Beryl), Midland, Mrs. C. J. Crowe (Gertrude), Orr Lake, Mrs. Fred Chapman (Dorothy), Wyevale, and Grace, nurse-in-training at Midland hospital.

Funeral services were held at his residence with the Rev. George Morrison of Wyevale in charge, and interment was in Aurora cemetery. Pallbearers were his three sons, and three sons-in-law.

Drivers Take Victory From Aurora Ordnance

Army Drivers of the Dentonia men's senior softball league defeated Aurora Ordnance 5-2 in Aurora Tuesday night.

The visitors scored three runs on three walks and two hits in the first inning. They added another in the second on two walks and two outfield flies. They had another in the seventh on a walk and a base-hit.

In the ninth, with the bases crowded, and two away, McComb struck out the next batter. Altogether McComb struck out ten, walked 11 and allowed five hits.

Aurora had Tunstead, on the Drivers' mound, in trouble in the sixth when they had runners on third and second with nobody out. Glover, the batter, drove one at Tunstead, who couldn't handle it, the ball bouncing off his knee. The runner on third tried to score and was out when Tunstead retrieved the ball.

In the eighth Aurora scored their pair of markers. After the first batter went out, pitcher to first, Cooke came through with a hit. White laid down a sacrifice and both runners were safe on an error.

Glover, the next batter, got his second straight hit, scoring Cooke, White moving to third.

Irvine then hit to shortstop, who momentarily juggled the ball. White was knocked out as he slid safely across the plate with the second run.

McComb singled to fill the bases with still only one out. The next batter struck out. Glover was forced out at the plate, when a pinch-hitter grounded to third.

Aurora collected five hits and a walk off Tunstead, who struck out seven. Low and Barrett, who both had a double and single, and Rogers, with a single, were the hitters for the Drivers, while Cochrane, their catcher, drew three walks.

For Aurora Glover had two hits, with McComb, Francis and Morley Cooke each getting one. Of six errors the Toronto team had four, Aurora two.

Born At Pine Orchard, Mrs. Oliver Dike Dies

In ill health for the past three months, Mrs. Oliver Dike, Fenelon Falls, died at Ross Memorial hospital, Lindsay, on June 13.

Ada Oliver was the daughter of the late Grace and Joshua Oliver and was born at Pine Orchard on Jan. 12, 1876. She married Oliver Dike on March 27, 1908.

Mrs. Dike was a member of the United church at Fenelon Falls.

Surviving besides her husband are one son, Murray, Toronto, one daughter, Hazel, Fenelon Falls, three brothers, James, Gormley, W. H. Oliver, Long Beach, Cal., and Frank, Imperial, Sask., and one sister, Mrs. H. Sproxton, Gormley.

Rev. F. W. Newell of Fenelon Falls conducted the funeral service at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, Newmarket, on June 16. Interment was made in Newmarket cemetery.

The pallbearers were Howard Dike, Bertram Dike, Archibald Dike, Newton Dike, Howard Oliver and Herbert Oliver.

Twelfth Will Be "Mute, Inglorious" This Year

Owing to gasoline restrictions, tire troubles and difficulty in obtaining bus or train transportation, North York this year will not resound to the fife and drum on July 12, except as each individual lodge sees fit.

No county celebration will be held, it has been decided by North York county lodge. Many of the lodges, however, who have access to travel facilities will parade somewhere, while members of course will commemorate the Battle of the Boyne at whatever "walk" they can reach. "Despite the fact that there will be no celebration, the spirit will still be there," a prominent county official told The Era and Express. "Membership and enthusiasm has held up well despite the war."

FIND WATER

A flow of 50,000 to 60,000 gallons of water was struck by B. Huffman & Son, New Toronto, well drillers, on Gurnett St. last week. The flow when tested will be turned into the town water system.

The well was sunk on the recommendation to the town council of Councillor A. A. Cook, chairman of the water committee.

LEAVES DISTRICT

Rev. W. A. Westcott this month bids goodbye to the Aurora district, where he has served as pastor of the Temperanceville-Wesley-Mount Pisgah circuit, as he has accepted a call to Flesherton in Grey county. The family will move to their new home next week. Rev. R. C. Moddle of Toronto has accepted a call to the combined charges and commences his pastorage next month.

Former A.H.S. Students Pass University Exams

Ex-students at Aurora high school who were successful in obtaining first year examinations at the University of Toronto include: English literature and history, Elizabeth Wilcox; allowed to enter second year pass arts course, Harold Oliver; 1st year school of science, class 3 honors, commerce and finance, Harvey Fingold; pass arts, William Thompson (now on active service), Dorothy Clarke; social and philosophical studies, honors, Mae Harman.

FORMER AURORAN WED

A pretty June wedding was solemnized in Calvin Presbyterian church, Toronto, recently, when Aileen Margaret McDonald, daughter of Major and Mrs. James W. McDonald, Toronto, became the bride of Edmund Harrison Despard, son of Rev. and Mrs. Gerald S. Despard, Toronto. Rev. Mr. Despard was a former rector of Trinity Anglican church, Aurora. Both bride and groom are graduates of the University of Toronto.

A. H. S. STUDENT WEDS OFFICER IN TORONTO

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Toronto on June 12 when Grace Lucille Southmayd, daughter of Mrs. C. G. Southmayd, Toronto, was united in marriage to Second Lieut. W. H. Teskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Teskey, St. Mary's, Ont. Dr. J. E. Todd officiated in a setting of snapdragons, carnations and sweet peas.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, C. G. Southmayd, wore a suit of dusty rose crepe sheer, with a matching hat and veil, and a corsage of orchids. The bridal attendant was Mrs. D. R. Oliver, Jr., sister of the groom, who wore a gown of beige sheer. She carried a corsage of creamy yellow roses. Lieut. F. R. Southmayd, brother of the bride, was best man.

A family dinner was held, and the couple left on a wedding trip to Orchard Park, N.Y. They will reside in Toronto.

The bride, until a few years ago, resided in Aurora. Her father was office manager for J. Fleury and Sons. She attended Aurora high school.

SELL BUILDING

The Fleury-Bissell office building on Wellington St. has been sold and will be converted into apartments, it is announced by J. M. Walton.

BETTER CANADA IS FATHER'S DAY SUBJECT

Father's day was observed in Aurora Baptist church on Sunday, with a men's choir providing special music and the pastor, Rev. A. R. Park preaching on "Our Contribution to the Building of a Better Canada."

DOWN THE CENTRE

Gordie Brennan, the bull moose of the Aurora Tigers hockey defence of 1939-40, turned down for active service because of asthma, is confining his sport activities to soccer this year. Gordy is playing goal for Dominion Bridge in the A section of the T. & D. circuit and rating headlines for his fine work. Ronnie Rowe, ex-Markham junior, Don Hamilton, ex-Aurora junior goalie, Eric Adamson of St. Kitts and Bill Quackenbush of Detroit Redwings are other hockey stars who are playing soccer these days.

Climatic conditions forced a postponement of the clash between No. 23 B.T.C., Newmarket, and Toronto R.C.A.F. last week, much to the disgust of Capt. Tom George and C.S.M. Syd Bowman, who had figured on pinning back the wings of the high-flying "pigeons." It was raining cats and dogs near Willowdale, so the fliers decided not to go to Newmarket despite the fact that in canal-town the weather was like California. Telephone talk went for naught, the Camp claiming two points by default and the airmen pleading a "ceiling zero."

The league will sit in on the whole situation but the Redmen would definitely seem to have every right to claim two points. Aside from this game, the Camp are on the right side of the ledger to date and two more points would look nice.

Lancashire, who are scheduled to play the Newmarket team tonight, shoul be taken in stride if their last appearance is any criterion. The Lancs lost their last one out 3-0, and scored all three goals for their opponents too. A header, a hip and a carom were all in reverse order to spell defeat. A feature a bit unusual for any sporting event.

Al. Delaney, Windsor, who a few years back was one of North America's leading heavyweight fighters and has flung leather against Tony Galento, Bob Pastor and Joe Louis, has turned up at Borden with a Recee battalion. As might be surmised Al is boxing coach of his unit and his boys swept their first card in the usual K. of C. Thursday night show. Delaney, despite his many fights, is far from looking like the usual ex-pro and appears in the pink. We are scheduled to have a talk session with him soon and should be able to give you some real inside dope about the big names in boxing. Al. is hoping to entice Two-ton Tony Galento to come to Canada for a bout, with proceeds going to the armed forces and is convinced he can hammer the New Jersey barkeeper to the canvas.

Boxing has sent many of its favorites, past and present, to the armed forces. Tommy Bland is with the R.C.A.F., as is Dave Castilloux. Johnny Greco, "Baby" Yack and many others are with the army and all doing their bit to make Canada's soldiers boxing conscious, and, believe you me, they're doing it too.

Flash Hollett, of the Boston Bruins Hollets, who every summer until two years ago played softball for Keswick in the Lake Simcoe league, is doing war work in Toronto just now and is playing intermediate softball. Hollett, it will be remembered, was largely responsible for rallying a fourth-place Keswick team until they tied with the favored Mount Albert nine and then never played-off the series, as a weak-kneed executive failed to find a solution to the problem in time. Hollett expects to retire from hockey after next winter and turn farmer and raise plenty of chickens and eggs. Must be the North York influence.

Al. Wysinski, in case you don't know it, is just about the leading hitter in the Davisville senior circuit and the corporal's blows have been both timely and hard to date. With reinforcements on hand like Joe Reid, ex-Dentonia park hurler, "Mickey" McMicking of Toronto at first base, and a London lad named Larmer as relief hurler, Newmarket Camp have improved considerably, but the other teams have done the same thing until they are like peas in a pod so far as playing ability is concerned. Bobby Lynn and his Ordnance buddies are just rounding into form. So it should be a fine season.

Wes. Heaney and Hoppy Hodgins, both former Aurora York-Simcoe and town league softballers, are again in action on the diamond this year. The two boys, who are close pals, are performing for the R.C.A.M.C. in the Toronto Garrison league and doing right well too. Hodgins is covering plenty of ground, while "Little Julius" is back to the form he was in when Newmarket Redmen drafted him for play-off action in the O.A.S.A. a few years back.

Norman Hooper, ex-sports writer for the Barrie Examiner, and former Allandale lacrosse player and Barrie hockeyist, was among the graduating class at Brockville C.O.T.C. this month. Hooper enlisted as a buck private shortly after the Gray-Simcoes were mobilized and has made the top the hard way. Lately he has been doing public relations work on the east coast. Now he returns to Borden with the armored corps.

Congrats to our old friend, Joe McGhee, Aurora junior netminder of a few years back, who has been serving with the R.C.A.F. nearly three years. Joe became the proud daddy of a husky boy last week. Speaking of the McGhee clan, Al. McGhee, better known as "Galleon," who was a smart winger on Bert Tunney's first Aurora junior team, is now at Camp Borden with the armored corps, after doing basic at Brampton camp.

Fred Schelke, Gormley, well-known racehorse owner and trainer, has not had too much luck with his good horse Shepperton, but his name has been kept to the fore with the fine showing made by one of his juveniles named "Schelke." We can recall no other horse which has adopted the surname of its owner.

Ronnie O'Dell, former speed-baller with Richmond Hill Roses in York-Simcoe softball, now on active service, has recently been promoted to sergeant and is at Camp Borden on an instructor's course. Would it be corny to say, "Ronnie always had plenty of stuff on the ball"? Another Queen's Yorker at Borden, only on draft and minus two hooks, is slugging Phil Vitale, former Newmarket camp hardballer, and merry madcap of mercantile hockey circles. Vitale joins his old team-mate, Bernie Gantner.

Wes. Niles turned up in a new role the other day. Mr. Niles, who is at Borden, was pressed into service by his company for the centre's track and field meet, and altho' he had never run the half-mile he gamely entered and with perfect condition and the well-known Niles' staying power surprised everybody, including himself, by finishing in first place.

Larry O'Connor, ace trackman at Newmarket camp and former Canadian Olympic and British empire champion, is overseas now with Canadian troops. Last July 1 on sports day, Larry, then a plain private, turned in a feature performance. So did the lads he coached. Now he is an officer and thousands of miles away from No. 23. Practically, the entire track team are away this time, but others have come on to take their place.

Tommy Rock, diminutive catcher for Barrie Collegians a few years back and battery mate for the smooth-working Harry Couse, is another lad who is in Blighty. Tommy rated with Charlie VanZant and Harold Echlin as among the all-time bests ever to perform in York-Simcoe softball. He was at Borden when he played for Barrie.

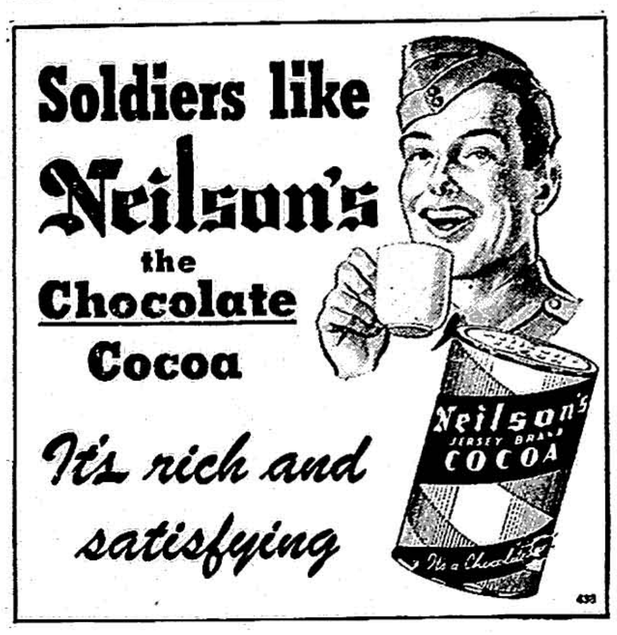

Jim O'Halloran, who was a fair softballer and did some good work for Queen's Yorks two years ago at Niagara, was visiting Scotland recently. He sent a note to "Hack" Wilson telling him details calculated to make Wilson smack his lips in reverse order.

Harold Capra, who played for Etobicoke juniors and, benched after one game, was refused a playing certificate in 1940 to play with Aurora, and then played with the local juniors the following season, is a member of the navy now and, like his former team-mate, Alfie Barber, has seen a bit of action. Capra underwent medical treatment in order to get into the biggest game of all time.

Lighters, suitably engraved, have been decided upon as a gift to the Aurora Ordnance championship hockey team. The O.H.A. medals and the crests are ready to be handed out but for some reason or other those in charge of things can't seem to get together, while time marches on.

While results are not yet out, Aurora high school cadets made a mighty fine showing in the Ontario Rifle Association shoot at Long Branch. Bill Babcock, Charlie McNaught and Charlie Seath, who all were gold medallists in qualifying scores, along with Billy Ham, made up the team. Nearly 20 years ago Aurora high school had one of the best rifle teams in Canada and as a matter of fact finished in the first ten in Canada once. Trouble is in peace-time we allow things like this to die out and then have to spend money to get it started all over again.

Aurora is one school where, thanks to Principal J. H. Knowles and Capt. Norman Johnson, boys have been able to go into the present conflict fairly well versed in much of the training they will need. Bill Davis, ex-St. Andrew's College backfielder, and basketball star and former cadet captain, is now an officer with the armored corps at Borden. Davis was a mighty fine athlete and in his uniform looks every inch the fighting man.

"We're regular old MISERS —and enjoy it!"

JOE: "Pay day! Boy, I was down to my last nickel!"

ANN: "What do you do with all your money?"

JOE: "Run the house, keep the family, pay my life insurance, and BUY WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES AND BONDS."

ANN: "Same here! We're saving money, we've learned to be regular old misers and enjoy it!"

JOE: "That's our job. I heard a fellow say the other day that this war is on the home front, too—that we in Canada have a big part to play in keeping prices down. He said something about buying only the things we need."

TED: "That makes sense to me. If we keep on building up a demand for things we can do without, the people working to produce goods for civilians won't be able to supply them fast enough, and prices will go sky-high."

JOE: "Exactly! This fellow said that inflation was the big fight on the home front and the only way to beat it was to buy just the things we really need, and keep our spending down by saving every dollar we can from our earnings. I figure that's a lot easier to do if I buy War Savings Certificates and Bonds regularly and HOLD ON TO THEM!"

"LET SOCIAL SECURITY BE GOAL" = W. I.

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

"It's going to rain," my better half informed me on Wednesday night of last week.

"Why do you say that—it seems to make it more certain to do so?" I asked, as I watched Wooly teach Candy, her new baby, to climb a box, and listened while she cajoled, threatened, persuaded and caressed him into making the attempt.

"It will probably clear up by morning," said mother placidly. "It looks like rain most evenings, anyway, so you shouldn't feel discouraged—you're not going to a picnic."

This view sort of consoled me, but as next morning I flew round getting things ready to leave, with Timothy growling over his food and Wooly showing me her empty plate, I looked askance at the sky, and even when we five women got into the car and started out a few drops of rain tried their best to dampen our enthusiasm—but without success.

Arrived at the United church in Newmarket, our spirits rose still further, for there is something inspiring in seeing a large group of women drawn together in the bonds of a sisterhood, which only the Women's Institutes know.

The morning session, with Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mount Albert, district president, in the chair and the district secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Marchant, Schomberg, at her post, began with the singing of The Maple Leaf, O Canada, the opening ode and the collect repeated in unison.

Mrs. Albert Ridley played and your scribe led the singing, so I had an opportunity to watch those who sang. There were only a few who didn't sing, and sing as if they loved it—the ones who didn't sing missed a great uplift of spirit, which only music can produce.

Mrs. Marchant's reports of the executive meeting and of the 1942 district annual were so clear-cut, concise and accurate, that it is just a pleasure in itself to listen to. Mrs. Marchant announced—triumphantly—that she was able to tell us that ALL reports and fees had reached her in good time for her to have her books balanced and audited—which rejoiced her hearers, as in other years nearly always two or three reports and fees were missing. The auditor's report was given by Mrs. Shultz.

Then followed the president's address:

"First, I would like to say," began Mrs. Sinclair, "how much pleasure it gives me to extend to you all a hearty welcome to our district annual for another year.

"We are here to discuss interests in our year's work and to gather ideas for the coming year, for we know the Institutes have done much for the development of women working together with a common purpose, as expressed in our motto, 'for home and country.'

"Today, we will take up our theme, 'All out for Victory.' Work today, plan tomorrow. This demands an all-out effort. First is the home front, for women are the bulwark of the nation, and are keeping things normal, in abnormal times, so that youth may develop in the right atmosphere.

Women control 85 percent of the buying, so must do it intelligently.

"Second, educational organization. It is our duty to carry the torch of liberty and freedom. Other countries have been honeycombed by fifth columnists—ours may be the next.

"We do want freedom of speech and worship and freedom from fear, want and terrorism, so let social security be our goal.

"Abraham Lincoln said, 'Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us, to the end, do our duty as we understand it.'

"We have been so busy making a living that we are forgetting how to live. We have accepted privileges, won by other generations, forgetting that freedom and democracy cannot be inherited, but must be won by each generation.

"Habits are formed in the home. Our Institutes offer us many services in their co-operative programs, and never before have we appreciated so fully the value of good homes, good health, good food, which result in sound bodies. How can fight on the front line, but we can all serve on the home front and there is a universal urge for a better life, social security and a new order—of freedom, not tyranny.

"A nation exists for humanity, humanity for God. No nation denying the Deity can succeed. So far our skies are free from bombers. We can plan our campaign in security, not in shelters. North America has riches and resources enough to free the planet, if we mobilize totally. Hon. Vincent Massey told a gathering that Canada stood fourth in her contribution to the war effort, and the Queen in an address to a women's club told of the wonderful work the women of the Canadian Institutes are doing in the sending of jam and clothing to the bombed areas.

"Winston Churchill said, 'Let us therefore brace ourselves, to do our duties and so bear ourselves, that if the British empire lasts 1,000 years, men will say, "this was their finest hour."' So let us women bond ourselves together and work with a purpose based on the golden rule—that democracy and freedom may survive.

"To steel ourselves against the lust of ease,
To find our welfare in the general good,
To hold together, merging all degrees in one wide brotherhood,
To teach that he who saves himself is lost,
To hear in silence, though our hearts may bleed,
To spend ourselves and never count the cost
For other's greater need."

Then came the reports from the branches. The four who had not received brief bags were heard first. These were King City, Laskay, Temperanceville and Union Street.

The question was raised as to whether points were to be taken off for money raised by raffles, as raffles are frowned on by the department.

This is rather a vexed question as many branches feel it is one of the few ways they have of making money. However, it is NOT the way encouraged by the department, so it remains as it has always been, a point of issue.

Following the reports from the four branches mentioned, those of Aurora, Belhaven, Elmhurst Beach, Elmgrove, Gormley, Mount Albert an Newmarket were given, followed by a combination of parts of three songs—"Land of Hope and Glory," "Canada Ever" and "Tommy Atkins," sung by your scribe, accompanied by Mrs. A. Ridley.

Miss Hopkins from the department then spoke, bringing greetings from the department and congratulating the district branches on their reports, but asking WHY we stuck to branch reports instead of those of the standing committees, and advising the change. This was protested against by many who said much of their enjoyment at the district annual came from these reports. She stressed the need for more discussion at our district annual.

To tell the truth, I think if we had more real discussions at our home meetings we would be better equipped to discuss things at the district annual.

She said that some of the worst war casualties were among homes where older people went to work and the young were left to roam the streets. It was up to the Institutes, said she, to find ways to interest and amuse those who, left to themselves, would inevitably find their way into the delinquency courts.

She didn't approve of box lunches. For one thing she said people when they brought lunches stuck in little groups. "Mix up," said she, "and you'll find your new neighbors as good as you are."

She said in her travels amongst the Institutes some had served rather unusual meals—one, a big dish of creamed asparagus on toast, one, baked potatoes, sprinkled with paprika—one could think of other appetizing and non-rationed dishes.

The representatives were then called to the front to vote on their service from the department. It was voted that citizenship in rural communities had first choice, followed by household accounting, branches to combine if possible and hold the meeting at some central place, but the speaker would go to any branch where such a combination was not possible.

It was moved and seconded that we have an officers' rally and combine in the same way, with the same branches for that, the officers' rally to be held in November, the speaker service in September.

It was now time to refresh the inner man or woman—as you will—

Honor Dieppe Hero Who Gave Bible To Church

A roll of honor, bearing the names of all the men of Wesley United church serving with the forces, and one killed in action, was dedicated at the morning service on Sunday.

Using the words, "A certain man had two sons," from the parable of "The Prodigal Son," Rev. W. A. Westcott drew comparisons between the Nazi system of life and the things all Canadians are fighting for. The choir used as their anthem the Russian hymn, "Give to Us Peace in Our Time, O Lord."

Following the sermon, the pastor read the names of those now serving from the church. Then as the congregation rose, the name of Pte. Robert Basil Gittins was read.

Pte. Gittins was born in London, England, Aug. 5, 1921, and came to Canada in the spring of 1937. He enlisted with the Royal Regiment of Canada early in September, 1939, when the regiment was posted for duty in Iceland. He was held in Canada owing to age. Later he rejoined his unit when it was transferred to England.

He served with headquarters company of the regiment as a signaller and took part in the raid on Dieppe, Aug. 19, 1942, following which he was officially listed as missing.

Early in May Canadian military headquarters received information from Vichy, France, that Pte. Gittins had been killed in action on Aug. 19, 1942, and had been buried in Des Vertus cemetery, Hautot sur Mer, France.

Previous to leaving for overseas Pte. Gittins learned that a new Bible was needed for the altar table at Wesley church. Later he presented the church with the book which now lies open on the altar. This Bible is kept open at Ephesians, chap. VI, which is the passage of scripture read by one of the army chaplains to the men on a transport as they approached Dieppe.

In November, 1942, Mrs. Stanley E. Sloman, wife of Pte. Gittins' boyhood chum, wrote a short poem in his memory and forwarded it to friends here with the request that a copy be placed in the Bible at Psalm 23.

During the service, Miss Jean White read the poem and placed a copy in the book as requested. The poem as written by Mrs. Sloman is given below:

They who have given their lives
in our service,
They who have died ere their time
had arrived,
They who have given so much to this empire—
Have faced and have fallen, have dared and have strived.
What can we give in return for their heart's blood?
What can we do to remember them by?
They would not ask us to mourn
or be mournful;
They would not want us to fret or to sigh.
Aim to construct a world worth
their anguish;
Work for a peace that their hearts
would hold dear,
Fight for a world that is nobler
and kinder,
A world they'd be proud of if they were still here.

The name of Emily Mildred Richardson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Richardson, was omitted from the list of children baptized at Wesley United church on Sunday, June 13.

Mrs. Harry Sproxton's and Mr. James Oliver's sister, Mrs. Oliver Dike, Fenelon Falls, died on June 13.

Mrs. McQuarrie and Miss Margaret McQuarrie of Easton, Pa., are staying at their summer cottage here.

Mrs. Carrigan, Mrs. Burgess and son, Bobby, and Miss Ethel Carrigan of Hamilton, visited Mr. and Mrs. James Wright last week.

Mrs. Fred van Nostrand, Mrs. Arthur van Nostrand, Mrs. Ralph Willis, Mrs. H. A. White and Mrs. H. A. Switzer attended the North York Women's Institute district annual meeting in Newmarket last Thursday.

Mrs. Wesley Carr, Miss Doris Carr, Miss Lenna Carr and Master Allan Carr, Arcola, Sask., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Carr and Mabel.

Mrs. Griffiths, Thistletown, visited her sister, Mrs. W. J. Kingdon, and Mr. Kingdon, on Saturday.

The young bachelor was asked which he thought were happier, people who were married or people who were not.

LET SOCIAL SECURITY BE GOAL—W. I.

so the box lunches adjourned to one of the pleasant rooms at their disposal where lunches were pooled and hot tea was available; the rebels visited or rather descended upon restaurants, and each group enjoyed itself in its own way—there's nothing like a democracy for fostering individuality.

Following lunch, the Rev. Henry Cotton, pastor of the church in which we were meeting, gave us a welcome and a talk, which will live in the memory of those who heard him, for many moons. He lived five years in Stony Creek, so had become well acquainted with the Women's Institute. He had built a fireplace in his home there, and under the mantel were the names of the charter members of the W.I.

We women of the W.I., said Mr. Cotton, occupy a unique place in the country. Church and other organizations do splendid work, but we are non-denominational, we have no barriers to let down. People of any race, creed or color can meet in the Institute as sisters. He told us that we Canadian women are the best cooks in the world, but alas, he didn't stop there, he said we are slaves to our cooking. We live in our kitchens, especially farm women.

He felt that, having so much, we should not have a word to say against rationing.

He told of how he and others, as prisoners of war in Germany, in the last war, lived on mouldy bread, WASHED to whiten it, and free it from green mould, and soup, which was not soup. They were kept alive by the parcels from home, but he told us of the women brought from enslaved countries, whose husbands had been shot, while they were brought to Germany to do slave labor.

How they lived, let alone worked, on their ration of black bread—a gram—watery soup, and then porridge—was an absolute mystery. When we think of them, said he, how can we protest against any small deprivation. He said Germany covets Canada and would grab her if she could—then where would we be?

He spoke of the wonderful leadership of Madame Chiang-Kai-Shek, a modern Joan of Arc he called her, which was expressive, but not so flowery as the speaker of the house who introduced her on Wednesday last and who said he, "a mere mortal, was introducing an immortal."

Of the women of Britain he said their courage, cheerfulness and stamina were something to marvel at, and the women of Canada, too, can take it for God, home and country.

Mrs. Pearson, Queensville, thanked the speaker on behalf of the Institute and said it was our privilege to live up to our motto of for home and country and keep alive the glorious spirit of Canada.

Mr. Armstrong now showed moving pictures of remodelling of old clothes, whether your husband's or from the attic—it can be done. We caught a glimpse of our local girls at work. It showed where all the salvage was going and inspired the wish to give more. It also showed British women at work, a sight to inspire the most lethargic.

Then followed some more reports —Nobleton, Pine Orchard, Pefferlaw, Queensville, Schomberg, Sharon, Sharon Juniors, Snowball and Vandorf. One thing all these branches had in common—the will to work, to earn and to spend for home and country.

I cannot take space to tell of each, but the amount of sewing, knitting, earning, comforting done by ALL made an impressive picture. Each branch had individuality in its earning and its spending, thus showing what a democratic bunch we are. The brief bag was won by Unionville. All four branches, competing, said Mrs. Smith, speaking for Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. Snider and herself, who comprised the judges, were excellent, but Unionville's report was so splendidly balanced and her ways of earning money so good that the judges felt the prize was hers.

The roll-call was followed by a charming piano solo by Mrs. Shultz.

Mrs. Reid from the federated board then spoke and she too advised standing committees instead of branch reports. She said this year there was an equal number of old and new members. She told us of the resolutions taken up by the provincial board.

1. The medical examination of both sexes, before marriage.
2. That indiscriminate cutting of trees should be stopped.
3. That bicycles should have head and tail lights.
4. Provincial and federal houses ready to consider liquor questions.
5. An increase of from ten to 15 cents per member to be charged.

The new provincial president asked in her address, "Do we publicize enough? Do we give enough of our money for government use? Do we use the Institute folders for war stamps? Do we give to the central war charities fund of the W.I.?

"We should laugh, even if it's at ourselves. Poor food causes depression."

Mrs. Reid conducted the election of officers, and, as it turned out, the report of the nominating committee, given by Mrs. Ralph Willis, was adopted with no changes.

The officers are as follows: honorary presidents, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Sleeper; president, Mrs. B. Sinclair; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. J. Bonk; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. Boyne; 3rd vice-pres., Mrs. Corner; sec.-treas., Mrs. Marchant; federal rep., Mrs. P. Hamilton; alternate rep., Mrs. Arthur Boyd; resolutions, Miss Lenore Starr; publicity, Mrs. Colville, R.R. 3, Newmarket, Miss Lenore Starr, Newmarket, and Mrs. Rolling, King City.

Standing committees: agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. Cunningham, Queensville; home economics, Mrs. Cronsberry, Sutton West; historical research and current events, Mrs. Charles, Aurora; citizenship, Mrs. A. Boyd, Newmarket; social welfare, Mrs. Sleeper, Mount Albert; war work, Mrs. Ralph Willis, R.R. 1, Gormley; auditors, Mrs. B. Skinner, Mrs. Shultz; district rep., Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mount Albert.

I was sorry to miss the conclusion of the meeting, but will give it again.

POLICE COURT

WAS TAKING CAR TO POLICE, SOLDIER SAYS

Found guilty on three charges of cashing worthless cheques in the amount of ten dollars each, Pte. Gordon McKay, Newmarket, military camp, was sentenced by Magistrate McIlveen in York county police court at Newmarket on Tuesday, to three months in jail, one month on each charge. Pte. McKay pleaded guilty when the evidence in the case was heard in police court last week and at that time was remanded in custody one week for judgment. A fourth charge of cashing a worthless cheque was withdrawn.

"Last week I remanded the case for a week to see if you would make restitution. Have you done anything about it?" his worship asked.

The defendant replied that he was unable to make restitution.

"Sentences are always given with a two-fold purpose, and one of the purposes is to stop others doing the same thing," remarked his worship. "If I let you off, others would expect to get away with the same thing you did and especially here at the camp we do not want others who are with you cashing worthless cheques. I am going to make your penalty a month in each case, the terms to run consecutively. It will make others know that they can't cash cheques and have no money in the bank to meet them."

After hearing evidence in a charge of fraud against a Sutton woman, Magistrate McIlveen remanded her for a week to enable the accused woman time to produce a receipt for merchandise as evidence in her own behalf.

The charge against the defendant was laid on complaint of Isadore Shulman, Toronto, owner of a business known as the Ontario Lamp Sales Co., who stated that on May 7 the defendant had purchased from his salesman in Sutton merchandise to the value of $19.06 and gave a cheque which was returned "N.S.F."

In his evidence Roy Fizzell, who listed among the articles he had sold the defendant sun-glasses, tablets, bread tablets, lighter flints, pins and combs, said that he had delivered the articles to the accused's store on May 7 and received a cheque.

Defence counsel told his worship that the receipt which Mr. Fizzell gave the defendant for the merchandise was dated May 6 and that there were sufficient funds in the bank on the following day. His worship remanded the case for a week to enable the defendant to produce the receipt.

Pleading guilty to charges of illegal possession of liquor, James Sandham and Lawrence I. Clifford, both of Toronto, were each fined $10 and costs or ten days in jail.

According to Constable Robert Windsor, he came across the two defendants in Whitchurch township, on June 19, and upon searching their car found one half dozen quarts and one dozen pint bottles of beer, some of which were consumed. He said that the two men, along with some others, were having a party.

"I am going to remand this youth in custody for one week," Magistrate McIlveen told the court when Pte. Allan Stephens, Toronto, pleaded guilty to a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent. His worship, with the consent of Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., dismissed a charge of auto theft against the youth.

According to Edward Wilson, R. R. 5, King, on June 18, after returning from a shopping trip to Kettleby, he had parked his car in a private lane near his house. He explained that because of the condition of the roadway he was unable to drive the car up to his house. He said that when he looked for the car the next day it had disappeared and that when he notified the police it was found about a mile and a quarter away from where he had parked it the night before.

Asked by the crown the amount of damage done to the car, the witness stated that the front seat and two doors were broken and he estimated the damage at about $10.

"I located the car on the Aurora side-road about 120 rods from where Mr. Wilson left it," testified Constable William Cutting, King township. "Its front seat and side doors were broken."

Sgt. Sid. Barraclough of the York county police said that he had investigated the auto theft on June 20.

"I went to the home of Mrs. Annie Harman, on the fifth concession of King, where I saw the accused," stated Sgt. Barraclough. "The boy was quite frank. He said that he picked up the car on the side-road and thought it was stolen. He said that he thought he was doing a good deed in driving it in to the police in Aurora. He said that he didn't see the police. He went fishing at Holland Landing. He said that he did not intend to steal the car but was going to report it to the police."

"I didn't know Mr. Wilson had a place there," stated Pte. Stephens. "I thought the car was stolen. When I got into Aurora I thought, 'How could I prove I had not stolen it,' and I turned back."

"How old are you?" asked his worship. "Eighteen years," replied the soldier. He added that he had been in the army since January.

Questioned by the crown as to the condition of the car after he left it on the road, the youth said: "The doors were the same as when I got it. I don't know whether the seat was the same or not."

Speaking in behalf of the youth, his superior officer said that the youth was in the medical corps and in that line made a good soldier. He said that he was on draft and would likely be sent to the coast. "I don't believe he stole the car," stated the officer. "I think it was a case of thoughtlessness. He is only 18 years of age."

"I think the complainant had a perfect right to do what she did," commented the crown when Magistrate McIlveen found Bert Hopper, R. R. 2, Lloydtown, guilty of a charge of common assault on Mrs. Elsie Sanford, a tenant on the same farm.

On the stand Mrs. Sanford, who is the mother of three small children, explained that she and her husband, who is now overseas, lived in the same house with Mr. and Mrs. Hopper and their children, each family having separate living quarters and kitchen. She said that the agreement when she leased the farm was that both families should run it jointly.

On June 12, she said, while she was getting ready to go to Bolton, the defendant came into her kitchen and demanded an apology. She said that she asked him why he wanted her to apologize.

"He went out and came back in and said that it was about time to rip up the floor covering," she stated. "I tried to push him out. He grabbed my wrists and hurt my side."

The witness explained that she had purchased the carpet from Mr. Hopper for $23.

Cross-examined by Defence Counsel Lorne Lee, Aurora, Mrs. Sanford denied that she had invited Mr. Hopper into her part of the house to discuss the reason for the apology, or that she had thrown a milk bottle at him.

"I don't know if I threw eggs at him," she said. "There was egg throwing on both sides. I might have thrown one or two eggs at him. I do know I had eggs on me thrown by him."

Accoring to County Constable Ronald Watt, when he arrived at Mrs. Sanford's, he found groceries, eggs and flour on the floor of the kitchen and the furniture upset.

"I questioned the accused and he stated that he had gone into Mrs. Sanford's to see about payment on the linoleum, which was on the kitchen floor," stated the police officer. "He said that Mrs. Sanford had not paid for it and that he had attempted to take it up. He showed me the linoleum. It was badly torn. He told me that he grabbed Mrs. Sanford by the wrist in self-defence."

According to Mr. Hopper, he had been working on a tiro of his car, when Mrs. Sanford, who had been accusing him of breaking into her house, asked him to come into her house and tell her why she must apologize. He said that in the argument she threw four bottles of milk at him.

"I asked her to pay me for the rug, as I had heard that she was going to move," stated the defendant. "She hit me with a chair."

"She hit you with a chair?" asked Mr. Lee. "No," replied Mr. Hopper. "She hit me with an ironing-board."

"All you had to do was get out of the place and you wouldn't have had to act in self-defence," the crown told Mr. Hopper.

Mrs. Hopper, wife of the defendant, told his worship that she had seen Mrs. Sanford throwing eggs at her husband. She said that the fight lasted for about a half hour.

"I am finding you guilty on the charge of common assault and fining you the sum of ten dollars and costs of $12 or ten days," Magistrate McIlveen told Mr. Hopper.

Found guilty on a charge of illegal possession of liquor, Archie Bennitz, Camp Borden, was fined $10 and costs. A second charge, obstructing the police, was withdrawn by Constable George Foster.

Fred Andrews, 165 Pell St., Brantford, whom Prov. Con. Alex. Ferguson said he had clocked travelling at 65 miles an hour over a distance of eight miles on Yonge St., received a fine of $49 and costs. Lawrence C. Bidwell, Toronto, who was also clocked by Constable Ferguson, on Yonge St., was fined $15 and costs.

Motorists fined $15 and costs for travelling over 40 miles an hour in Aurora and who were timed by Chief Constable Fisher Dunham, Aurora, were: Melvin McLean, Bertha H. Cullingworth, James A. Fisher and Rebecca A. Wright, all of Toronto, and Joseph V. Tobin, Aurora. Alan Sands, Toronto, who was also clocked by Con. Dunham driving over 30 miles an hour in Aurora, was fined $5 and costs.

David Kasden and Irving Nicol, both of Forest Hill Village, who were fined $10 and costs each, were timed by County Constable William Hill in North Gwillimbury. Edward Flaxman, Toronto, who was fined $15 and costs, was timed by Constable Carl Morton in North Gwillimbury.

A fine of $15 and costs was imposed on George B. Heintzman, Toronto, who was timed by County Constable Ronald Watt in East Gwillimbury.

Constable George Foster of Georgina timed the following motorists: Horace G. Lapp, Mimico, Frank Craddock, Toronto, Harry M. Smith, Leaside, and Gordon Young Ltd., Toronto. In each case the fine was $15 and costs.

George T. Lynden, Toronto, who was timed by Constable Kenneth Mount, in Newmarket, was fined $6 and costs.

For failing to have a 1943 driver's license, Roy Mullis, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs. D. Speziali, R. R. 2, Newmarket, who failed to produce an operator's license at the request of a police officer, was fined $3 and costs.

Constable Ronald Watt laid complaints against ten motorists who had inefficient brakes on their cars. Seven received fines of $10 and costs: Oriole Breedon, Tottenham, Leo Ross, Newmarket, Wilbert Grant, R. R. 1, Bradford, Mrs. Wm. Eves, R. R. 1, Newmarket, Tomsett Contractors, Toronto, and Harry Botham and Mark Whale, both of Schomberg.

Newmarket Soldiers Give Demonstrations

The annual rifle shoot of the Canadian Rifle Volunteer Constabulary Regiment was held at Long branch ranges on June 13 under the leadership of Weapons Officer Lieut. R. C. Morrison.

Lieut. Morrison was assisted by Captain W. B. Cooper, W.T.O., Sergeant-Major R. J. Mawson and Corporal J. R. Francis of the Newmarket military camp. Out of 300 competitors R. C. Morrison along with six others shot a possible which is a feature in markmanship. Two of the men shooting possibles were members of the Bisley team.

Demonstrations of the firing of the Bren gun, the Sten gun, Thompson sub-machine guns, Boys' anti-tank rifle and the two-inch mortars were given by men from the Newmarket training centre.

DEATH IS BEST

a city of dead," said Rev. Henry Cotton. "We are compassed about with a great cloud of witnesses. Their bodies are here. Their spirits are here too. It is the general assembly of the saints, the spirits of just men made perfect.

"The church of Christ is not just visible but invisible. We are a huge company. We, gathered here today, are merely the rear ranks of a vast procession winding its long way through the centuries. If we as yet are still in the shadow, look yonder how they pass into the glory of the sunlight, row on row.

"For us it is only a hope. For the huge majority of Christians have attained, their hands are on, the goal. For them the promises have all come true.

"How much we owe to our blessed dead! Their victory inspires us in our own fight. Their message rallies us.

"Death is the most arresting of preachers. When death speaks we all listen. He does teach us some things which we do not easily forget.

"Our dear ones pass not out, but in. And if they could speak to us, and who shall say they cannot, would they not say: Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive the things God hath prepared for them that love Him."

Rev. J. A. Koffend brought the service to a close with the benediction.

C.C.F. CANDIDATE BEGINS HIS CAMPAIGN

A get-together meeting of members of the C.C.F. was held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Woods last Thursday evening, to discuss matters pertaining to the C.C.F. and organization for the forthcoming provincial election.

Mr. Mitchell, reeve of North York and C.C.F. candidate for the riding, attended the meeting. He stated that in the riding he was finding that "many people who have been staunch supporters of the old party were swinging to the C.C.F., realizing that unless a really progressive party is put into office for the post-war period conditions would be similar to those following the last war, when the long promised prosperity around the corner did not materialize until the outbreak of another war."

He urged all members to "talk to the people in their neighborhood and show them the importance of voting for a C.C.F. candidate."
